CHAMP CLARK LOSING STRENGTH TO WILSON

Democratic National Committee Will Make Selection Of The Presidential Candidate Tonight

Wilson Gains Strength During The Day
When South Dakota Clarke
Delegates Are Ousted

BALTIMORE, June 27.—When the democratic national convention opened at noon today the Hearst-Sullivan Illinois fight received the attention of the delegates. Roger Sullivan refused to sanction the Hearst compromise.

It has been planned to make up a temporary roll call and permanently organize with Ollie James as chairman, and Howard Britton of Raleigh, North Carolina, as permanent secretary. After the speech of James an effort will be made to take a ballot on the presidential candidate, but this appears impossible as it has been declared that the nominations will not be made before tonight.

Bryan Beats Tammany Tiger

William J. Bryan tore another hunk from the side of the Tammany tiger today when he and Senator O'Gorman of New York were chosen to write the platform. They started at work immediately and the platform will be reported to the convention tomorrow. Senator O'Gorman is a progressive.

Wilson Strong

It is expected that the resolutions committee will adopt their platform tonight as no serious opposition has been manifested as yet. The apartments of Colonel Bryan were crowded today with visitors and the presidential boom of the Nebraska is looming larger every minute. Falling in the nomination of Woodrow Wilson it is believed that the followers of the New Jersey governor will turn their strength to Bryan and succeed in naming him as the choice of the convention for the presidential honors.

Record Breaking Crowd

The crowd in attendance at the convention is the biggest that has yet filled the armory since the convention was called to order Tuesday. The armory is stifling hot and like yesterday many of the delegates are coatless. Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the president of the United States, is seated on the platform.

Convention Called to Order

Temporary Chairman Alton B. Parker took the stage at 12:20 and at 12:43 order was secured and the convention rapped to order. Rabbi Cuttgnacher pronounced the invocation.

Favor Wilson Delegation

The credentials committee presented a report recommending the seating of the South Dakota Wilson delegates instead of the Clark delegates as recommended by the national committee. Among those who spoke on this question was Theodore Bell of California, representing the Clark faction, and charged the Wilson adherents with sharp practices. This statement brought a roar of denunciation from the Wilson delegates that resulted in a demonstration for the New Jersey governor. The demonstration became general, with each camp yelling for its favorite, until finally after 22 minutes of uproar the convention wore itself out and order was restored.

Bell Is Silenced

Bell then resumed speaking. "Everybody wants to get the facts," he shouted, but was interrupted, when a delegate shouted:

"Yes, Pat Calhoun does."

Orders Vote Taken

Hardly a word uttered by Bell was heard owing to the continuous roar that resulted while he occupied the floor. Parker then ordered a vote on the question of seating the California stood with 26 solid votes in favor of Clark while New York went solidly against the speaker of the lower house of congress. The vote of New York is taken to mean that Murphy has decided Clark cannot be nominated and is getting ready to trade when the break from Clark occurs. Illinois was for Wilson strong.

Wilson Delegates Seated

The Wilson delegates were seated when the announcement was made of the result of the vote, which stood 639 1/2 to 437, with 15 1/2 not voting and two absent.

Bryan Denies Rumor

Friends of Bryan issued a denial this afternoon for the Nebraskaan, denying the report that Francis J. Heney, acting for Roosevelt, had agreed that no third party was to be organized if Bryan was nominated. Bryan personally denied that he had discussed his candidacy with any person, and is attempting to discourage all talk of bolting the convention.

The convention refused to flow the Philippine Islands delegates to vote, holding that the islands are not a part of the United States. After the South Dakota contest was settled it was unanimously voted that the remainder of the credentials committee report be adopted. This obviated the Illinois fight and seated the Sullivan delegates.

James Is Cheered

Ollie James, permanent chairman of the convention, was then escorted to the platform and spoke. The crowd was wild and enthusiastic cheers came from every delegation. The cheers doubled in volume when Senator La Follette of Wisconsin came to the platform as an invited guest.

Adjournment Taken

At the conclusion of the address of Chairman James the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight when the nominations will be made.

DARROW CASE NOT BE DROPPED BY FREDERICKS

DISTRICT ATTORNEY DECLARES REPORT IS FALSE AND FOOLISH

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—District Attorney Fredericks stated today the report that he intended to drop the Darrow case was "false and foolish."

"The case will be pressed until a final decision is given by the jury," declared Fredericks. "The parties who circulated the report were evidently acting with the hope that the state might be influenced by the rumors. We have no desire to drop the proceedings, especially when we have made out a strong case against the defendant."

SPRECKELS WILLING TO SUPPORT BRYAN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Hedolph Spreckels dispatched a telegram to W. J. Bryan today, pledging moral and financial support to the Nebraskaan if he is nominated as the presidential candidate by the democratic party.

OLLIE JAMES IS BITTER IN HIS DENOUNCEMENT OF ROOSEVELT

BALTIMORE, June 27.—In his speech as permanent chairman of the democratic national convention Ollie James bitterly denounced President Taft, derided Colonel Roosevelt and invited the latter to join the democrats. The Chicago squabble was denounced and James predicted a democratic success this year.

He concluded his address with a tribute to William Jennings Bryan. "The progressive spirit that is sweeping this country is called by some as the principles of progressives, and by others as the doctrines of the insurgents, but back yonder when a voice in the western wilderness cried out for them, they called the vagaries of Bryan, a dreamer. However we differ in this convention, all must admit the one living American whose name will shine in history as studied by a thousand falling stars, and only behind those of Jefferson and Jackson, is that of W. J. Bryan of Nebraska."

TONOPAH RESIDENTS URGED TO ASSIST IN CLEANING UP CITY FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Chief of Police Smith Will Have Wagons Out Gathering Rubbish
For Next Four Days

Tonopah will be a spotless city when the Fourth of July arrives.

All streets and alleys will be cleaned within the next few days and extra wagons have been employed by Chief of Police Smith to cart away the accumulated rubbish. The wagons will start work Saturday and will continue until Monday and Tuesday in carting away the garbage.

It is now up to the householder and property owner to set to work and clean up the premises surrounding his residence, and also assist the city government in cleaning up the streets and alleys. In many of the back thoroughfares rubbish of all descriptions has been accumulating for months. The same can also be said of the premises of unoccupied houses and vacant lots.

"Tonopah will be given a complete scouring," said Chief of Police Smith this morning. "The city government is willing to go to the extra expense of securing teams to haul away the rubbish, and now it is the duty of the residents of this city to co-operate with us and rake up the garbage and rubbish around their homes. They should place the refuse in convenient piles that our men can gather it up without delay. We will furnish the wagons and haul the refuse to the dumping grounds, but insist that the property owners clean up their own ground. "Tons and tons of rubbish will be gathered up and I would urge upon the people start work early cleaning up their premises. The wagons will be kept busy during the three days and it will be practically impossible to cover the same ground" twice. Friday should be devoted by the residents in cleaning their yards as the wagons will start out bright and early Saturday morning on their first rounds. The work of removing the rubbish will be continued Monday and Tuesday, and by that time we expect to have the town in a spotless condition."

STOCK EXCHANGE DEFEATS RAISING OF COMMISSIONS

An important meeting of the San Francisco Stock & Mining Exchange was held yesterday afternoon, when the matter of raising commissions was brought up. The measure was defeated by a vote of 26 to 23, a very close division. A two-thirds majority was necessary to adopt the report of the committee favoring the proposed raise. The action taken rejecting the proposition ends the matter for the present and commissions will remain as before.

GEORGE WATT RETURNS TO HOME IN AUSTIN

George Watt, of the Lander Livestock association, who recently lost his left arm through amputation in San Francisco, has returned to his home in Austin. Watt was a pioneer of Tonopah and at one time was connected with the Tonopah-Goldfield meat market of this city. He has completely recovered from the amputation.

Upon being informed that the agricultural exhibit was not scheduled for this celebration, the ears of corn were presented to friends.

As soon as the celebration is concluded he will return to Bishop with his Indians as he needs them during the coming election when the "wet" and "dry" question will again come up. Every Indian in the land favors a "wet" country.

JURY HOLDS INQUEST OVER REMAINS OF UNFORTUNATE TONOPAH EXTENSION MINER

Decision Reached That T. R. Mullalley Came to Death From Inhalation of Poisonous Gases

That death was due to heart failure, caused by the inhaling of poisonous gases, was the verdict returned late yesterday afternoon by the coroner's jury investigating the demise of T. R. Mullalley, who met his death Tuesday evening while at work in the Tonopah Extension mine. The verdict further stated that the presence of gas in the mine workings was caused by the management failing to supply fresh air for a sufficient period, and also recommended that the proper life saving apparatus be purchased by the mine management to be used in case of such accidents, and thus avoid the loss of time in securing apparatus from other mining companies.

The testimony brought out during the inquest, which was held by Justice of the Peace H. H. Atkinson, ex-official coroner, was substantially the same as was given in yesterday's issue of the Bonanza. It appeared that Mullalley and W. B. Coughlin descended into the mine about 4 o'clock for the purpose of mucking out on the sixth level. It has been the rule for the men employed to first draw muck from the chutes, thus allowing additional time for the various drifts and crosscuts to clear of gas. This rule was followed and four or five cars were secured from a chute. Then the two men entered the crosscut but after working for a short time were forced to leave owing to the presence of gas. After recovering they returned and were at work when overcome.

Mullalley was standing near the face of the crosscut while Coughlin was about ten feet away mucking directly into the car. Mullalley was mucking back from the face that the space could be cleared in time to allow machine men to set up their drills when they came on shift at 6 o'clock. Coughlin suddenly observed Mullalley reel and fall. He started to the aid of his comrade but after taking two or three steps became overcome. The eager noticed the two men at 4 o'clock and again at 5 o'clock. Knowing that gas had been present in the crosscut during the previous shift he entertained fears for the safety of the two miners and about 5:15 o'clock left the station to investigate. On entering the crosscut he found the bodies of the two men stretched out on the ground about seven feet apart. The eager hurried to the fourth level and secured the assistance of Paul Whaley and W. B. McMahon. The three then descended to the sixth level and carried the bodies of the overcome miners to the station and then were hoisted to the surface.

Coughlin appeared to be the more serious of the two and artificial methods of respiration were tried upon him. He responded quickly. Mullalley was breathing and after Coughlin was declared out of danger it was observed that the former was in a serious condition. A messenger was dispatched to the Belmont mine to secure the pumpster, but before the apparatus arrived Mullalley passed away. Attempts to resuscitate him were continued for fully 20 minutes but without reward.

The remains of Mullalley will be shipped in the morning to Modesto, Cal., for interment. The deceased is survived by a wife and mother. The wife is living at Westley, Cal. Mullalley was aged 25 years and was a native of Ireland. He was a member of the Redman lodge of Weed, Cal., and of the Tonopah Miners' union.

Mullalley had formerly worked for the Tonopah Mining company and quit his position there to go to work for the Extension. He was working his first shift at the Extension when he met his death. It was reported today that Mullalley was a nephew of Thornwell Mullalley of the United Railways company of San Francisco, but confirmation to this report could not be secured.
